The Leesburg Commercial is into its new home and well under way again.

At any rate, if the czar fails as a general nobody can remove him—Times-Union.

Unless somebody removes him as his granddaddy was removed.

Secretary Rooney has received notification that sealed proposals for furnishing material and constructing a hyacinth elevator for the Withlacoochee river will be received by the war department until Sept. 27. For information address the district engineer officer, U. S. engineer office, P. O. drawer 45, Jacksonville, Fla.

Sunday lawbreakers are being arrested in Orlando, as a result of the crusade started there, some weeks ago. The manager of the telephone system was one of the first victims of the crusade, presumably because he permitted his exchange to respond to the calls of customers on Sunday.

Surely, this must be a mistake. It isn't possible that Orlando Sunday-ites are so bigoted as to try to keep people from using their telephones on Sunday.

Many a man has started forth from his home with a song on his lips, and a feeling of general goodwill to the world in his heart and has not entered the home again until, weeks after, he was carried over the threshold an inanimate lump of clay, dead by the hands of justice, because he had broken the primal law of civilization that declares "Thou shalt not kill," or rather primarily, because he had gotten into the habit of toting his artillery around with him in his hip pocket.—St. Augustine Record.

Not in Florida, he hasn't. Perhaps he has re-entered his home after paying a lawyer all he had to defeat justice, but he was never brought back with a broken neck—unless he was a negro.

It is likely that an attempt will be made when the next legislature meets to have the law against newspapers exchanging space for transportation repealed. It will be very much to the disadvantage of the railroads, the newspapers and the people to revive the old pass system. A newspaper which can obtain passes for all the members of its staff and their families for a greatly disproportionate quantity of advertising space is going to be mighty tender about criticising the railroads whenever they impose on the people. And such a policy would crowd the railroad cars with dead-ends, like they were in Florida twenty years ago, when some newspaper men fairly lived on the trains.

If a law was passed allowing the railroads to pay for advertising space in the newspapers with mileage at regular rates on both sides, and requiring contracts to be made, so that some little railroad official couldn't try to punish a newspaper for a criticism, the arrangements would work very well.

"It is true that if I lived in Williston I would be for Bloxham county,"—Mr. Benjamin in Ocala Star.

At last Mr. Benjamin acknowledges that truth is mighty and must prevail.—Williston Advocate.

What the Star said was this: "It is true that if we lived in Williston, we would be for Bloxham. Williston is for Bloxham, and Bloxham is for Williston—for Williston's benefit."

Which is very different. But then nobody need wonder at the Courier not getting anything straight. It is crooked enough to hide behind a cork-screw.

The Courier goes on to say:

"And now if he will acknowledge that all he has published in his paper against the creation of Bloxham county was bought and paid for at so much per foot, his conscience, if he has one, would experience a relief beyond imagination."

We are not surprised that Mr. Stafford cannot comprehend a newspaper doing anything it isn't paid for doing. A grafter can't help thinking everybody else is as mercenary as himself.

Rev. John R. Herndon, who since 1907 has been associate editor of the Christian Observer, retires from that position in view of his acceptance of the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Ocala, Florida. For a little more than a year, during 1907 and 1908, Mr. Herndon devoted his entire time to the duties of associate editor, but since 1908, his work has been done in connection with the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Cleveland, Tennessee, where he has resided. Mr. Herndon has served with ability, fidelity, zeal and conscientiousness, and his efforts have been greatly appreciated by the editors and readers of the Observer. Cordial good wishes are extended to him in the important work which he now takes up.—Christian Observer, Louisville, Ky.

Not only the Presbyterian but all the other people of Ocala will have a welcome for Mr. Herndon.

President Wilson, all things considered, is the hardest-worked workman in the United States today and it is difficult to understand how he gets any sleep when we consider the tremendous weight of anxiety and responsibility he taken to bed with him every night. A mighty nation is poised on the perilous edge of the abyss of war, and one small flaw in the fine mechanism of Woodrow Wilson's intellect, one slip in a cog, one false move in the greatest and most dangerous and difficult game of diplomacy ever played by this government with another, and the country may go over the edge and crash down amid the other nations wallowing and weltering in the bloody horrors of wholesale human butchery. Every praying man and woman in America should beseech the Almighty to guide and strengthen the lonely and devoted man at the head of the republic to the end that he may bring his country with honor and safety through the perils that threaten it from a world gone mad.—Lakeland Telegram.

Very true, Uncle Joe. Also, the American people should remember that if President Wilson hasn't been as stiff in demanding their rights, or in backing up protests as most of them would like, it has been their fault, not his. They have given him practically nothing but "moral effect" to work with. He has done mighty well with the materials at his hands.

It being extensively reported around town that Charlie Hunter, the Ocala Stallings, would be a candidate for mayor, a Star reporter interrogated him on the subject. Mr. Hunter said, "Not yet," but on being reminded that election was three months off, said that he was abused for so many things that he might as well be abused for a few more. Which was a confession, a concession or a digression according to the way one looks at it.

Mr. Louis W. Duval has returned from Mayfield, Ky., where he spent a month with Mrs. Duval and Miss Duval on a big Kentucky farm. Mr. Duval just had to come home in time to see the results of the Bloxhamites' attempt to swipe part of Marion county.

FRANK W. LUFFMAN

On the morning of Thursday, Sept. 2nd, our hearts were saddened when the news spread at Sparr that Frank Luffman had passed away. Frank was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Luffman of Sparr. He was born Oct. 7th, 1890. Mr. Luffman was married to Miss Hazel Hunt of Demorest, Ga., June 2, 1914. Frank Luffman was a young man of great promise. After he had completed his studies in the public school at Sparr he attended school at Sutherland for a year. He afterwards went to Demorest, Ga., graduating from the academy in three years. He then took a course in college and would have graduated with high honors this year if his health had not failed.

Frank Luffman was a noble Christian young man. He united with the Methodist church when a very small boy and proved a consistent member. His life shows a steady development of a true Christian character. Frank was loved by all who knew him. In fact to know him was to love him. We can't understand why so promising a young man and one whose life was so helpful should be called away in the bloom of life. But we do know that our Heavenly Father makes no mistakes and that he does all things for the best and that all things work together for good to those that love the Lord. Frank's whole life was full of sunshine and happiness and especially the last few months and the last few days of his life. He said he had loved his Savior for a number of years but loved him better now than ever. He told his precious young wife just a few days before the end came that he loved her dearly but he loved Jesus better. Jesus, the great teacher, said I go to prepare a place for you and if I go and prepare a place for you I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where I am there ye may be also.

Frank leaves to mourn his death a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Luffman of Sparr, and two brothers, E. W. and C. H. Luffman, besides other relatives and a multitude of friends. The funeral services were held at the Methodist church at Sparr Friday at 1 p. m. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Outland, assisted by the Baptist pastor, Rev. N. B. Plummer of Anthony. The remains were interred in the Anthony cemetery. His precious young wife, who was so faithful to him during his illness, returned to Demorest with her father.

May the Lord heal the broken hearts of the distressed relatives and help them to say thy will be done. The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord. Though Frank has been called away may they realize that the great shepherd leadeth and it is well. May they realize that the Lord is our refuge and strength.

There is a vacant place in the little Sunday school.

Where once he kept the golden rule And where he tried from day to day To do his best while on life's way.

In the great and glorious Sabbath school rank, The place once filled by him is blank; A vacancy is made in the old church aisle, Where once he walked and sweetly smiled.

He has left this world of toil and care To live with the angels pure and fair, And rally around the Father's throne With other loved ones who have gone.

The numberless friends that here he had Are left behind, grief stricken and sad. Though our loss is mingled with pain, Yet it is his eternal gain.

We miss his sunny, smiling face, His manly walk so full of grace, But happy thought to us is given That he is now at rest in heaven.

May his loved ones left behind Sweet peace and comfort ever find, In that one and glorious thought That Frank with Jesus' blood was bought.

And now may each and every one Prepare to go where he has gone, To that blessed home that's built above, Where all is purity, peace and love.

May we walk the way that's narrow and straight, And meet Frank at the pearly gate In that bright city that's made of gold, Whose riches and happiness are untold.

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S PROBLEM.

The housekeeper, if she be a mother of a large family, is weighed down with worries and cares.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when a woman passes through the change of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

Jacksonville, Fla.—"If more women suffering from ill health and woman's trouble would use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there would not be so many of my sex so unhappy, discontented and discouraged; my condition was such, and I am happy to say the 'Favorite Prescription' made me a well woman.

My health was quite run down. I was unable to do my own housework; was exhausted, with tired nerves, which interfered with my sleep at night. Just got to where I was restless and gloomy, and wanted nothing to eat. Everything in my ill state was changed with entire satisfaction by the use of 'Favorite Prescription.'—Miss S. Howard, 626 Date St., Jacksonville, Fla.

If you will pay the mailing charges, Doctor Pierce will send you his cloth-bound book of over 1,000 pages, newly revised with color plates and illustrations. Everyone should have and read it in case of accident or sickness in the home.
